

Your website checklist

Business website · €990 · Up to 5 content pages · One language

Review what you need before making an inquiry, then gather your available materials in one place.

Up to five content pages, including Home. Posting your completed legal notice and privacy policy as two additional pages is included. Legal drafting and review are not included.

Before your inquiry

- ☐ Business name, services, audience and website goal
- ☐ Responsible contact person and a monitored email address
- ☐ Consider your preferred domain; note any existing domain
- ☐ Choose a demo style and brand colours
- ☐ Plan pages: Home, Services, About, Contact and another agreed page
- ☐ Organise text by page: offer, service details, introduction, contact and opening hours
- ☐ Prepare images and logo; check usage rights and image sources
- ☐ Plan the legal texts and required business information supplied by you
- ☐ Specify additional languages, booking, shop or other features separately

Clear preparation. A smoother project.

Your next steps

Business website · €990 · Up to 5 content pages · One language

01 / Prepare your inquiry

No files are required with the first inquiry. Describe your preparation status honestly. Save the draft if you want to continue later. Sections within a one-page website count together as one content page. Pages with separate addresses count individually. Choose design and structure separately; agree the final page list in writing before production.

02 / Register your materials

After written project confirmation and receipt of the agreed deposit, you receive your personal portal link. One week is planned to enter and complete the agreed materials. Submit earlier if ready and make additions until the deadline displayed in the portal. Enter materials in the designated sections rather than distributing them across emails or chat messages.

03 / Production and handover

Joan reviews your materials and confirms production start. Allow about three weeks from that point. Completion can be earlier; the actual schedule is confirmed individually. Your selected inquiry date is not a booking or guaranteed production start. If the first preview meets your needs, handoff preparation can begin. Up to two consolidated revision rounds within the agreed scope are available if needed. Internal checks and receipt of the final payment precede the agreed handoff.

Important reminder

Do not enter passwords or confidential access details in the public inquiry form.
